

Peirene SALON

An evening of literature, conversation, dinner and drinks.

FEATURING

Friedrich Christian Delius German novelist

Chris Schüler Book reviewer

Jamie Bulloch Translator

Please join us to celebrate the launch of Peirene's third title, "Portrait of the Mother as a Young Woman". I am thrilled to welcome the author himself, Friedrich Christian Delius. He will be in conversation with his translator Jamie Bulloch and the literary reviewer Chris Schüler.

Christian is one of Germany's most renowned living authors, who has written more than 20 novels and poetry collections. He has won numerous prizes and his books have been translated into 17 languages. Jamie has been a literary translator since 2001. He will talk about the challenges of translating "Portrait", a single, 120-page-long sentence that reads like a page-turner. Chris Schüler's book reviews appear regularly in The Independent and The New Statesman. He was one of the first to read "Portrait" and had one comment: "terrific".

I am very much looking forward to our sixth Peirene Salon, which promises to be an intellectually stimulating and enriching evening.

"A slim text. Huge literature."

OBSERVER, VIENNA

"A big historic picture
in a small space."

FRANKFURTER ALLGEMEINE ZEITUNG

"What a superb translation. This extraordinary and eloquent novella, a true tour de force, has made me long to find more of Delius' work straightway."
